

Project:

Supply of Professional Staff for the JET fusion project

Client:

UKAEA, Culham

Organisation & Management:

Oxford Technologies Ltd supplies a team of remote handling professional staff for this ongoing project.

Aim:

The project concerns the design and development of remote handling equipment for the JET fusion project.

Implementation:

Oxford Technologies Ltd supplies the services on an on-site team to the UKAEA who are the appointed Operator of the JET project.

To satisfy the client requirements Oxford Technologies supplies experienced staff with the following skill sets:-

- > Mechanical engineering
- > Equipment manufacturing contract management
- > Systems engineering
- > Control systems
- > Electrical & Electronic Engineering
- > Real time software, database software & HMI (interface) software
- > Assembly, Integration & Verification engineering
- > CATIA systems, DMU and Virtual Reality